

FRAUD ALERT

BUSINESS EMAIL COMPROMISE

In this sophisticated scam, criminals use fraudulent emails that appear to come from a known and trusted source to target organizations that make or receive financial transactions.

The U.S. EPA Office of Inspector General is issuing a fraud alert to highlight this increasingly common and costly form of cybercrime.

IDENTIFY

Learn about specific email scams and what to look for.

PROTECT

Learn how to protect your organization and yourself.

REACT

Learn what to do if your organization falls victim to an email scam.

LEARN MORE

EPA OIG HOTLINE

If the business email compromise relates to a program or operation of the EPA or U.S. Chemical Safety and Hazard Investigation Board, report the incident to the EPA OIG Hotline at OIG.Hotline@epa.gov.

FEBRUARY 13, 2024